REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

TO THE CITIZENS OF ACUSHNET:

The Board of Health submits its annual report for 1909.

The board, consisting of Fred O. Tripp, Henry Bartlett and Emery E. Cushman, organized in March, 1909, choosing Fred O. Tripp as chairman and Emery E. Cushman as secretary and agent.

There have been reported by physicians and parents 24 cases of contagious and infectious diseases:

- 2 typhoid fever,
- 7 varicella,
- 5 scarlet fever,
- 2 diphtheria.
- 8 whooping cough.

The board wishes to call the attention of the public to a very important notice (Chapter 75, section 49, of the Public Statutes) when a householder knows that a person within his family is sick with smallpox, or any other disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice to the board of health of the town in which he dwells. If he refuses or neglects to give such notice he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding $100 (one hundred dollars).

During the year the board had 500 copies of this law printed and placed in the hands of the school teachers, to be distributed to each pupil of the various schools.

The board requests that parents attend to vaccination before the children enter school in September, thereby avoiding more or less absence from school.

There were 37 deaths reported during 1909, and 9 removal permits issued.

Three slaughter house licenses were granted.

There were inspected by F. O. Tripp and Russell P. Hammett, inspectors of slaughtered carcasses:

- 324 swine,
- 3 beef,
- 5 veal.

One veal and one pig were condemned by the inspectors as unfit for food, and disposed of as the law requires.

The board has received numerous complaints of unsanitary conditions. The owners have been visited by the board and abated the nuisance without expense to the town.

On January 11, 1909, the board received a petition from Thomas Hersom & Co., asking for a permit to locate a soap and tallow rendering plant in the Town of Acushnet.

The board has been criticised severely by some of the town's people for not granting this permit, and it wishes to exonerate itself by saying that this petition was not acted on at Mr. Hersom's request; the petition being withdrawn, as Mr. Hersom found a more favorable location for his factory elsewhere.

The board has had Sec. 1, Chapter 164 (Acts of 1907) enforced the past year, in regard to having emergency chests supplied on premises where machinery is used for manufacturing purposes.

Respectfully submitted,

FREDERICK O. TRIPP,
HENRY BARTLETT,
EMERY E. CUSHMAN.

REPORT OF SCHOOL PHYSICIAN.

The current year being the initial year of a school physician in the town, the work has been somewhat formative and many peculiar circumstances have had to be met.

The fact that vaccination had not been looked after during previous years, made the total of vaccination relatively large, while the highest grades were not obliged in all cases to submit.

No serious outbreak of any contagious diseases has occurred, and the general health of the children has been good. In the majority of cases the parents have given the physician their hearty support and co-operation.

Our school houses are above the ordinary in general construction. Light and sanitary conditions are especially good, but heating and ventilation are especially bad, and the rooms are crowded.

Tests of the air showed very much below the standard, and the test was made less than an hour after having all doors and windows open at recess.

The stoves are consuming the fresh air which is so much needed by the children, while they heat the room very unevenly, those in the front of the room being very much too warm, while those on the outside were too cold. The teachers have been careful to keep the air in the room as good as possible, and have been ever ready to assist the medical inspector in all work.

The following report will show some of the work accomplished:

Number of vaccinations,	68
Successful vaccinations,	61
Cases of adenoids reported,	9

Defective vision,	11
Psoriasis,	2
Tonsilitis,	6
Pediculosis,	17

ACUSHNET FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Secretary's Report.

Our library has proved, the past year, more helpful and stimulating than ever before. The number of books purchased and those taken out have largely increased. The reading table is well patronized, especially by the young people, many of them pupils in our schools. The student and the real book lover will seek for literature even in discouraging environment, but many will be attracted to visit often a library that is pleasant, and where modern surroundings appeal to the intelligence and refined tastes of this progressive twentieth century. We have more book cases and shelves than heretofore, more magazines and illustrated papers, but the time will be gladly welcomed when a spacious, convenient and attractive place can be provided for our library, also for the pleasure and benefit of its patrons, and for the comfort of our faithful librarian. A separate room is needed for the reading table, where one may write an essay or composition in quietness, surrounded by the necessary histories, poems, reference books, etc.

Our former trustee and chairman of the board, Capt. George J. Parker, having moved from Acushnet to New Bedford, was no longer eligible to hold office in this town. Capt. Parker, to whose unwearied efforts the very creation of our library is due, was elected trustee when it was first opened in 1896. His devotion to the interests of the library was constant through all these years. He gave attention to every detail, and often by a sacrifice of time and conflicting claims.

We are fortunate in securing as his successor the services of Mr. Alden White, our town clerk and treasurer. Any suggestions of improvement in connection with the library will be kindly received and acted upon, if possible.

For further information see statistics in the librarian's report.

UNION SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

To the School Committee of Acushnet:

In accordance with your requirements, I submit the following brief report as to the condition and progress of the Acushnet schools, together with the enrolment and attendance statistics.

In general the organization of the schools has continued as during the previous year, except that the full number of nine grades have had to be maintained at the Long Plain School, thus adding extra work in the grammar room where there were but four grades last year. The four lower grades have been cared for in the primary room as formerly, though in each of these rooms, the enrolment since September, as the statistics will show, has been larger than in former years. Although it was known that the Perry Hill School would be very small, the school has been continued, and possibly wisely so, since Miss Hathaway was willing to return to this school for another year. While it is possible to persuade a teacher to accept and remain in a school of this size and character, so situated that a teacher can get a good boarding place, and on the other hand, where the difficulties of transportation are perplexing on account of the various directions from which pupils of the section come, it remains an open question as to the wisdom of continuing the school or transporting the few pupils to an adjacent school. However, when a school of this size and type is less fortunate than at the present in its teacher, it is without question much more just and profitable for the children to be conveyed to other schools.

The school at the Parting Ways has maintained the four rooms as in past years, but with necessary crowding and additional work for the teacher in the upper grades. This crowded condition has resulted from the fact that a larger number of pupils are remaining in school to the end of the grammar school course, and more especially because of the large enrolment of beginners, there being over thirty demanding admission in the first grade. This made it necessary to transfer the second grade over to the next room, and consequently push along the fourth and sixth grades to the next higher rooms, causing a congestion of the 6, 7, 8, and 9th grades in the upper grammar room, where with considerable extra work and considerable difficulty for the teacher, certain adjustments and combinations of subjects and classes, make it possible to get through the year without any serious detriment to the pupils themselves. This plan, of course, involves a slight increase in the pay of the teacher, and a considerable expenditure for text books for the use of these classes, in order to facilitate the work of teaching under these conditions.

One very important and noteworthy improvement in the organization of the school system has been the purchase, by your committee with the assistance of a sum from the H. H. Rogers fund, of what may be well termed a model wagon for the conveyance of the pupils from the Bisbee region to the Long Plain schools. I feel that your board, and through you, the town should be congratulated on the system of transportation which comes so near satisfying all reasonable demands, and which is furnishing all the children thus conveyed an equal opportunity with the other children of the town. Moreover, this makes it possible for these pupils to be much more regular in attendance than can be expected of those children who have to walk a mile and a half in all kinds of weather.

In September, besides the ordinary repairs for this building, the school house at Parting Ways has been much improved by new paint upon the exterior. At the Long Plain school, the main expenditure for repairs has been for the purchase and installation of twenty-five new seats and desks for the primary room, the need of which has been sorely felt for several years, because of the general condition of the old ones which, besides being pretty well worn out with tops so rough and uneven that pupils could not reasonably be expected to do good work with pen or pencil, were unsuited to the size of the children and unadjustable. This expenditure has added much to the joy and interest of the pupils of these grades, and has done more than any other material equipment could possibly do for the efficiency of the work in this room. During the coming year I hope that your committee may find it possible to further improve the equipment of this room by adding good black boards, thus putting the conditions for work on the same basis as those of the room down stairs, and the rooms at the Parting Ways school.

In accordance with the suggestion made in our last report, your board has authorized the expenditure of a sum more nearly normal for the purchase of books which have long been needed and which have been more necessary, as pointed out in another paragraph, because of the increased enrolment, and necessity of combining several of the classes in one recitation where it could be done without harm to the advancement of the pupils. A continuation of this policy of adding to the book equipment for another year would complete the introduction of a reasonable number of modern text books, making it easier for both pupils and teachers to meet the demands, not only of those who are going no further than the grammar school, but of those who are going to high schools.

In September, it was necessary to appoint a new teacher at the Parting Ways school to take the place of Miss Lewis, who was elected to a position in New Bedford, and this month it has been necessary to supply a second teacher to take the place of Miss Sherman, also elected to a position in New Bedford, where salaries are from $175.00 to $250.00 more than on this side of the river. I know of no way of preventing the Acushnet schools of losing teachers in this way except by an increase in the amount of money available for salaries, which may or may not be possible.

The increase in the number of pupils seeking admission to the Parting Ways school will probably involve one of two policies. First, it will be impossible, because of the fact that only a few pupils will leave the grammar room, to advance a large sixth grade to this room, as was done this year, or if they could be seated in this room it would be impossible for one teacher to take care of the four grades, with the number of pupils, without an assistant. The second policy would not only relieve this situation, but would at the same time be a distinct benefit to the school system not only here but in all parts of the town. This plan would only involve the raising of the age limit for those desiring to enter school to six years, admitting no pupil who was not six years old on or before the 30th of September of each year. This would reduce the number of those entering the first grade, so that the first and second grades could be cared for in one room as formerly, the third and fourth grade in the second room, the fifth and sixth grade in the third room, and the seventh, eighth and ninth grades as formerly, in the upper grammar room. This plan would apply equally well at the other schools of the town, and beside relieving the difficulty of numbers, would in the long run be far better for the pupils themselves, and a distinct economy from an educational point of view, in that so many of these five year olds are little more than babies in their physical and mental development, and in many cases lose from a third to a half of their time during this year, by reason of inability to attend regularly in bad weather. I believe this latter policy may be urged very strongly without any possibility of reasonable objection except from those few parents who like to have their children cared for in school as soon as possible.

In general the work of the schools has been carried on faithfully, and with a reasonable amount of skill and efficiency, with comparatively little friction or cause for unpleasant criticism. For the most part teachers and pupils have worked faithfully and happily together. More parents than formerly have visited the schools, over fifty having visited the Long Plain school since September.

The points I would suggest for your consideration are summarized below:

First. New blackboards in the primary room at Long Plain.

Second. A continuation of the introduction of new text books for another year.

Third. The raising of the age limit for entering pupils to six years.

Fourth. The general problem of heating, ventilating and sanitary arrangements which are sure to be called to your attention by the state authorities in the near future.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK M. MARSH.
