REPORT OF BOARD OF HEALTH.

Acushnet, Mass., Jan. 1, 1918.

To the Citizens of the Town of Acushnet:

The Board of Health respectfully submits the following annual report for the year 1917.

There have been reported to the Board 62 cases of contagious diseases during the past year as follows:

Measles,	27
German measles,	17
Typhoid fever,	6
Tuberculosis,	3
Chicken pox,	4
Ophthalmia neonatorium,	3
Scarlet fever,	1
Mumps,	1
Total,	62

This great increase in cases reported is due, not to a great increase in actual cases but to a vigorous campaign to enforce the reporting of all cases.

The State Board have added two contagious diseases to the list of reportable diseases.

There have been 44 deaths recorded.

The usual number of complaints have been adjusted without any serious disturbance.

Mr. Albert S. Jenney was re-appointed inspector of slaughtered carcasses for the year 1917.

Twenty magazines and two weekly illustrated papers are now taken for adults—six for young people and seven for the Long Plain Branch—all of which are in constant demand, both on the reading table and for circulation.

Very interesting monthly publications are also sent us: "Vital Statistics," the organ of the Massachusetts Anti-Vivisectionists, "Reports of the Rockefeller Institute," and the "Official Bulletin of the U. S. Government (published daily) among them.

Books have been given by the following to whom our thanks are returned: The State, Publishers of Massachusetts Vital Records, Millicent Library, the late Mrs. Charles Cummings (by Miss E. Brownell), New Bedford Reading Club, the late Mrs. E. Gibbs, Miss Katherine Hersom. Among the state's gifts were three of the Audubon Bird Charts—which are of unflinching interest.

The Woman's Educational Association has again supplied us with a Traveling Library which is most attractive to our younger readers. We have now a very fair collection of French books, which are well patronized, though we should be glad if it were by more readers.

Very especially at this time, too, the bulletins sent us by the various State and Federal organizations for Food Conservation should certainly be more widely consulted and read.

Very interesting information and statistics as to the growing, utilization, and relative value of various crops are sent periodically by the American Steel and Wire Company and displayed on the Food Conservation bulletin-board instituted by Government request. We have taken some small part in the two canvasses for Red Cross membership, and through our special committee appointed for the purpose were enabled to contribute $107 for the Soldiers and Sailors' Libraries.

A very growing interest and appreciation is evidenced in our Library and its facilities, which are much increased by the great courtesy of the New Bedford Free Public Library in lending us—when called for—technical books, the actual acquisition of which would be a needless expense. We have thus within the last year been able to meet calls—on various phases of lumber, cotton, and woollen industries, and applications of steam and electricity. Increasingly we feel our lack of adequate space and it cannot be very long before it becomes imperative to enlarge the room to accommodate our public even more than our books.

Respectfully submitted,

ANNIE A. SWIFT,

Trustee and Librarian.

REPORT OF THE ACUSHNET WATER BOARD.

To the Residents of the Town of Acushnet:

Your Water Board begs leave to submit the following second annual report:

The decision of the State to surface a portion of Main and North Main Streets with concrete, forced us to make certain changes and extensions in order not to be placed where we could not supply water to certain districts, for we would not be able to cross the concrete; hence for this purpose an appropriation of $5,000.00 was voted.

We have extended the service in the mains 698 feet as follows:

	Location and size of cast iron pipe laid in 1817.
	10 in.	6 in.	4 in.
Long Plain Road,	12 feet	238 feet
Dayton Street,			25 feet
Westland Street,		25 feet
Boylston Street,		25 feet
Nye Ave.,			348 feet
Jean Street,		25 feet
Totals,	12 feet	313 feet	373 feet

Owing to the extremely early and severe winter, certain extensions for which the material was purchased have not been completed, and now await the Spring. Shortage of labor has also retarded our work, as well as in other departments; and the inability of the Highway Department to properly fix Slocum Street, and the extremely cold weather, caused an early freeze-up on that line which it has not been possible to open. The continued extreme cold worked into our other services until, in company with other towns and cities, we have become more or less an entirely closed up system since the first of the year.

While sincerely regretting this, we can only refer to the report of the weather Bureau that never in its history has such long intense cold been known in this section, and say to our subscribers that their bills will be proportioned to their services, and hope that the same conditions will not prevail again.

The extreme high cost of material makes further extension practically prohibitive, and we are forced to refuse many applications for main extensions which are desired, and which would add materially to our service and our revenues. With this in mind, we would ask the patience of the people, and promise all the extensions asked when the market resumes its normal condition.

Our financial report will show that in spite of all the adverse influences we have been able not to fall behind, and hope for better times the coming year.

REPORT OF SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS.

To the Acushnet School Committee:

Herewith is submitted my sixth annual report, the twentieth in the series of superintendent's reports since the formation of the union with Fairhaven and Mattapoissett.

The Outlook published recently an interview with the Principal of one of the New York City public schools, in which was a statement worthy of consideration in connection with a school report. Said the Principal,—“This war is for children. We are ready to sacrifice life itself—lives and lives and lives—all for children. Could not we ourselves stand tyranny for a little while? Would any regime be so hard for us that we could not live under it for the length of our own days? Could we not suffer oppression so we would not suffer death? Ah, it is for the children that our men have gone out to fight for our country—and for the world. We must defeat Germany for the sake of our children. This war must be fought to a finish for the liberty of our children and of the children all over the world.”

The statement is profoundly true. America has entered the war not primarily for benefits that will accrue to men and women of to-day, but that their children and those after them may live in the era of permanent peace, under a democratic form of government, secure from the evils of militarism. Realization of this truth will lead to increased consideration of the problem of maintaining the schools on a high level of efficiency, even during these difficult war times. It is obvious that if sacrifices are being made for the future opportunities of children, children must be prepared for these opportunities.

The public schools have always been supported to train boys and girls for the duties of citizenship. These years of war are furnishing one test of the value of the training received. The years of peace, when they come, will furnish a more critical test than has any time of the past. In every department of activity there will be need of better trained minds than ever before. There will be a world to be rebuilt, thousands of trained men, the flower of our youth, to be replaced, leaders to be educated, if the United States is to have the leadership in the world's affairs which its interests and importance demand. The patriotic far-seeing citizen will be more interested in the schools this year than ever before.

Expenditures,	$975.86
Deficit,		975.86

Expenditures for grade schools have increased by $1,731.28 over those of last year. Analysis shows the increase is found mainly in the following items: teaching, repairs, new equipment and transportation. Teaching cost more than last year by $585.90, repairs by $250.49, new equipment by $362.20, transportation by $250, these items totalling $1,448.59. Miscellaneous expenditures increased $282.69. Teaching cost more because two additional teachers had to be employed owing to increase in number of pupils. Increase in the cost of repairs includes cost of alterations ordered by State Police amounting to $179.60, and the added expense of making ordinary repairs in these times. The new equipment bought consisted mainly of new desks to seat the increased number of pupils. Transportation cost more because of the higher prices paid the barge drivers. Miscellaneous expenditures were higher because of advances in purchasing prices.

Expenditures for high school tuition and transportation are compulsory, if a town does not maintain a high school. In the past the Town has received partial or total re-imbursement of money paid for these items from the State. This will not continue. The following letters from the Commissioner of Education are self explanatory.

Boston, November 14, 1917.

MR. WALTER E. TRIPP,
Acushnet, Mass.

My Dear Sir:—We are informed by the Bureau of Statistics that according to the State census of 1915 the town of Acushnet has more than five hundred (500) families. Therefore in accordance with Section 3, Chapter 42 of the Revised Laws, the town of Acushnet will not be entitled to receive from the State re-imbursement for expenditures incurred during the school year ending June 30, 1917 for the tuition of pupils attending high schools in other towns and cities.

Inasmuch as the town now contains five hundred families, it is required by Chapter 556 of the Acts of 1914, to maintain a high school unless specifically exempted by the Board of Education.

Very truly yours,

PAYSON S. SMITH,
Commissioner of Education.

Boston, November 14, 1917.

My Dear Sir: — It was decided to day that the data of the census of 1915 would have to be used in determining whether a town could receive re-imbusement for high school tuition and transportation expenditures for the year ending June 30, 1917.

In accordance with that decision we are returning herewith the certificate of expenditures for high school tuition of the town of Acushnet.

Very truly yours,

PAYSON S. SMITH,
Commissioner of Education.

The effect of the decision given in these letters is to make it necessary for the Town to pay for the tuition and transportation of high school pupils during 1917. In the future also the total expense of these items will have to be borne by the Town. There is no remedy except to maintain a high school in Acushnet and this would cost more and give less for expenditures than the present plan.

Those who send pupils to High school may lessen the burden to the Town by lessening their claims for transportation of their children.

Attendance and School Accommodations.

The total enrollment for the year ending in June, 1917, was 436, a slight increase over that of the preceding year. As directed by vote of the Town in March, 1917, the Selectmen and School Committee investigated plans for additional school accommodations. Their recommendation that four rooms be added to the present building at Parting Ways was rejected at special Town meeting. Schools opened in September with an increase of 50 pupils in the enrollment at Parting Ways. The first grade numbered 73, the fourth grade 65, two other rooms of the building, over 50 pupils, and the overflow school at the Town Hall, 93 pupils. It was, of course, absolutely necessary to relieve these conditions. The State withdrew the Town's share of the State school fund until this should be done. A two-room portable school was finally purchased and erected. Through the use of this the first grade pupils have been given a full day session for the first time in five years, and the most crowded rooms elsewhere have been relieved. Despite this, there are now three rooms with nearly or quite fifty pupils. If there is another increase of fifty pupils next fall, the necessity of furnishing more room will again arise. Since the Town must furnish school accommodations for its children, why delay action until too late to provide them in a satisfactory manner?

The total enrollment this year is 476, of whom 409 are at the Parting Ways school. The tendency thus far this year indicates continued increase in the number of children to be housed and taught.

Teachers.

There are eleven teachers employed in Acushnet schools; only four of these were in the corps last year. The superintendent has engaged eight new teachers for the Town since last June. Your teachers are all doing good work; most of them exceedingly good work. It has been a most trying year for the Parting Ways school. New teachers, overcrowded rooms, shortage of seats and delay in securing them,— these and numerous other matters, small in importance to the outsider, have added greatly to the difficulties of those doing the work. It is a pleasure to commend earnestly the fine spirit and work of these teachers.

It needs to be understood that the situation in respect to teachers is unusual. There are fewer good teachers available than ever before because so many have withdrawn from the service to accept business positions vacated by young men who have been called to the colors, and because many of the brightest young women have abandoned a teaching career for more lucrative work. Your superintendent has engaged twenty-eight new teachers in his district within less than a year. The worn statement, "Good teachers are scarce" has assumed new meaning to him. In so far as this scarcity relates to Acushnet it is to be remembered that all the larger places and most of the smaller ones have increased salaries several times in the last two years. In New Bedford, for illustration, the minimum salary of a regular grade teacher is $650, while seventy-five percent of the teachers receive $900 per year. Acushnet cannot pay as much as New Bedford but it must be remembered that most of Acushnet teachers have to board in New Bedford and pay the living expenses of that city. Board costs from $8 to $8.50 per week. On our maximum salary of $600, with board and carfare to pay, there isn't much left for the three months schools are not in session. In fact, if the teachers could not work in the summer at something else or board at home, there isn't a living in their salaries. The Superintendent is not arguing for a large increase in salaries but it would be justice to the teachers and of assistance in maintaining the efficiency of the schools if the appropriation could be made sufficiently large to increase salaries at least $25 per year. This would require $350 more than the amount needed to keep the schools on the present level.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES F. PRIOR.
